Diversity
Project Description
Participants in this IPP will spend time with the residents of Seniorenzentrum AGO Herkenrath - a care home for the elderly - and explore what different generations can learn from each other and what it means to live as a senior citizen in our society. Seniorenzentrum AGO Herkenrath in Bergisch Gladbach provides residential and day care, supporting residents to remain independent. Whilst beautifying the neglected garden of the home, participants will learn about the challenges of an aging society. As well as enjoying excursions, cooking and cultural evenings together, participants will prepare a “round-the-world trip” for the elderly residents to show them where they come from and what becoming old means in their society. In return, participants will have the opportunity to see the world through the different lenses and listen to stories from contemporary witnesses of a specific time period in (German) history.
Participant Profile
Participants should ideally: <ul style="list-style-type: none">✓ be curious about how different generations can benefit each other.✓ have patience, and enjoy contact with others.✓ be able to work flexibly and be open to daily changes that the environment may need.✓ be able to communicate across language barriers.✓ be willing to prepare an activity sharing a perspective or example of the theme from their own country or community.
